Ocean State Research

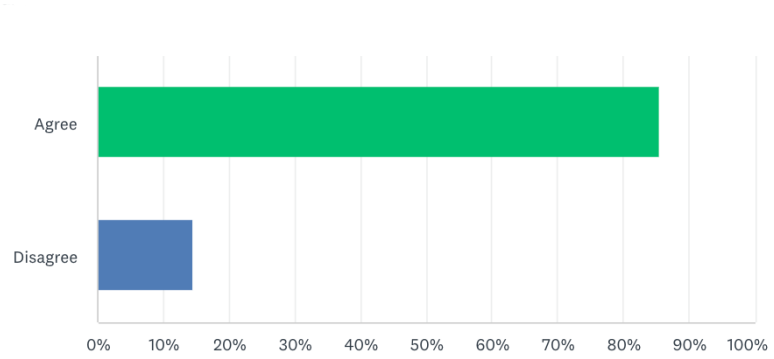
Western States Division
Memo Prepared on October 25, 2022

To all interested parties,

From October 24 through October 25 of 2022, Ocean State Research conducted a survey of United States registered voters on behalf of The Dawn Project. The topic of the survey was interactions with school buses in Full Self-Driving automobiles.

1,263 respondents were surveyed via online panel and screened to verify that they identified as registered voters in their respective states. 1,139 of these respondents were verified and moved on to the main survey. 1,139 of those respondents completed the main survey. The results were as follows:

A Full Self-Driving car that would drive past a school bus with its stop sign extended as children were getting on or off must be banned from our public roads immediately. Do you agree or disagree?



ANSWER CHOICES	RESPONSES
Agree	85.43%	973
Disagree	14.57%	166
TOTAL		1,139

Appendices 1-3 contain tables showing breakdowns of the statistical sample by age, gender and household income. Other than the above question, all questions in the survey were for the purposes of determining eligibility (e.g., A United States registered voter) or demographics for the purposes of sample balance. Thus, the above question was posed to respondents without outside influence or framing.
